DETAILED ACTION

1. This is the fourth office action for application serial number 10/054,122. This application contains 17 claims numbered 1-2 and 4-18. Claim 3 has been canceled. Claims 9-10 and 17 have been withdrawn as being non-elected species.

2. In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 12/23/03, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) File a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) Request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-2, 4-7, 11-12, 14 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 3,883,257 to Delafield (of record) in view of US Patent No. 4,662,591 to Encontre.

Regarding claims 1 and 11 and 14, Delafield discloses a collapsible table

(Figs. 1-5) comprising: a glass table top (38) (see also col. 4, line 19), a table base top portion disposed in a generally horizontal plane, the top portion comprising a plurality of releasably interconnected horizontal members (36) for supporting the table top thereon; a support portion for supporting the top portion, the support portion comprising a plurality of elongated members (52) releasably interconnected to one another, the elongated members including leg members (52) having lower ends for engaging the floor; and removable structure fittings (10) releasably interconnecting the top portion and the support portion so as to form a generally a rigid base.

Delafield teaches substantially as claimed as discussed above except for the replaceable polymerized sheathing being surrounding the entire each of the tubular members including horizontal members and the elongated members to provide an aesthetic pleasing appearance wherein the sheathing has an inner diameter equal to or greater than the outer diameter of the members.

Encontre discloses a replaceable sheathing or decorative cover (92) surrounding with only the table legs in order to provide an appearance of the table leg and to create a desired decorative effect.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a plurality of decorative covers surrounding the table legs and the horizontal frame of Delafield for the desirable purpose of simply catching more area of the table including the table legs and the horizontal members to create a more appearance and more desired decorative effect.

At the time the invention was made, it would also have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to provide a plurality of decorative covers or sheathing surrounding the table legs and the horizontal members of Delafield because Applicant did not disclose that the sheathing for the horizontal member provides an advantage or solves a stated problem except for the aesthetically pleasing. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with the decorative legs of Encontre because Encontre also teaches to provide an aesthetic appearance of the table leg and to create a desired decorative effect. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Delafield to obtain the invention as specified in claims 1 and 11.

Delafield in view of Encontre also lacks teaching of the material of the sheathing as claimed. However, the material selection is also considered a matter of design choice and economics. The material as selected may be made from any suitable material that possesses sufficient strength to withstand any conditions or object to which it is exposed or attached. Nevertheless, the material selected is commercially available and the selection is considered non-limited. It is therefore, considered as a matter of design choice.

Claims 2, 4, 5, 7, 12 and 18 recited limitations, which are also shown by Delafield in view of Encontre as evidently shown on Figs. 1-5 of Delafield.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Delafield in view of Encontre and further in view of U.S. Patent No. 3,462,021 to Hawke et al. (of record).

Delafield as modified discloses substantially as claimed except for the slip-in structural fitting having a connector.

Hawke et al. teaches the slip-in structural fitting having a connector (s-x) operable to connect the fitting to one of the tubes.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a connector in the fitting of Delafield for the desirable purpose of providing a stronger connection between the tube and the fitting as taught by Hawke et al.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Delafield in view of Encontre and further in view U.S Patent No. 3,910,206 to Jay.

Unlike Delafield as modified, Jay discloses a first leg brace (24d, 24b, 24a, 24c) interconnects between two of the legs between the lower and upper ends thereof.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have provided the brace interconnected between the two legs as taught by Jay in order to provide stronger support for the table.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 8 is objected to, but would be allowable if rewritten to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 15 and 16 are allowed, and the reasons for indication of allowable subject matter have been provided in the previous office action.

Conclusion

5. This action is made non-final.
